

What's Your Foodie Cruise Personality

Answer the below questions and write down the letter response to the answer that best describes you. When completed, you'll total your answers and discover your Foodie Cruise Personality!

1. When reviewing a cruise itinerary, what excites you most?

- A. The specialty restaurants onboard
- B. The food markets and local eateries in port
- C. The sheer number of dining options
- D. Wine regions and culinary traditions

2. Your ideal cruise dinner looks like:

- A. A beautifully plated, chef-driven tasting menu
- B. Something I discovered locally, even if it's simple
- C. Trying something different every night
- D. A regional dish paired with the perfect wine

3. How do you usually choose a restaurant onboard?

- A. Chef reputation and menu design
- B. I save my appetite for port days
- C. Whatever I haven't tried yet
- D. Wherever the wine list shines

4. Which phrase best describes your travel style?

- A. Elevated and intentional
- B. Curious and adventurous
- C. Flexible and variety-driven
- D. Cultural and immersive

5. A perfect shore excursion would be:

- A. A chef's table or culinary demo
- B. A street-food or market tour
- C. A food crawl with multiple stops
- D. A vineyard, winery, or regional tasting

6. How important is food when choosing a cruise?

- A. It's one of the main reasons I book
- B. It defines how I experience destinations
- C. It's part of the fun, but not the whole story
- D. It connects me to the culture

7. Which menu excites you most?

- A. Seasonal, chef-curated tasting menus
- B. Dishes locals eat every day
- C. A mix of global cuisines
- D. Regional specialties with history

8. Your ideal lunch in port is:

- A. Something thoughtfully prepared and refined
- B. Something small, local, and authentic
- C. Something quick so I can try more later
- D. Something traditional, ideally paired with wine

9. When dining onboard, you prefer:

- A. Consistency and quality
- B. Saving room for ashore experiences
- C. Endless options
- D. Menus that change by region

10. How do you feel about specialty dining fees?

- A. Worth it for the right experience
- B. I'd rather spend that money ashore

- C. I'll mix free and paid options
- D. Worth it if it highlights local cuisine

11. Your food souvenir of choice:

- A. A recipe or chef experience
- B. Spices or snacks from a market
- C. Photos of everything I ate
- D. Wine, olive oil, or local delicacies

12. Which cruise night excites you most?

- A. Chef's tasting night
- B. Late return after a food tour
- C. Trying three venues in one evening
- D. A region-inspired menu night

13. How adventurous is your palate?

- A. Adventurous — as long as it's well prepared
- B. Very adventurous
- C. I'll try almost anything once
- D. Adventurous within cultural context

14. If a cruise had only one dining highlight, you'd want it to be:

- A. A standout main dining experience
- B. Incredible food ports
- C. Variety of foods across the ship
- D. Authentic regional cuisine

15. Which statement feels most like you?

- A. "Great food elevates the entire cruise."
- B. "The best meals happen off the ship."
- C. "I want options — lots of them."
- D. "Food helps me understand a place."

Results

Tally your answers --- whichever letter you chose most often reveals your Foodie Cruise Personality. Count how many times you selected each letter.

- Mostly A's → The Culinary Connoisseur
- Mostly B's → The Local Flavor Seeker
- Mostly C's → The Global Grazer
- Mostly D's → The Cultural Epicurean

The Culinary Connoisseur (Mostly A's)

You cruise for the craft. Chef-driven menus, refined presentation, and consistently excellent food matter deeply to you. You appreciate thoughtful dining experiences and don't mind paying for quality.

Best fits: Premium and luxury cruise lines, chef partnerships, tasting menus

Cruise style: Intentional, refined, experience-driven

The Local Flavor Seeker (Mostly B's)

For you, the best meals happen ashore. You're happiest wandering markets, tasting street food, and eating where locals eat. The ship is your home base — the ports are where the magic happens.

Best fits: Destination-focused itineraries, longer port stays

Cruise style: Curious, adventurous, authentic

The Global Grazer (Mostly C's)

Variety is your love language. You want to sample cuisines from around the world — sometimes all in one day. Buffets, pop-ups, and multiple dining venues are your playground.

Best fits: Large ships with diverse dining options

Cruise style: Flexible, fun, exploratory

The Cultural Epicurean (Mostly D's)

You see food as a gateway to culture. Regional dishes, wine traditions, and historical context matter to you as much as taste. You want food that tells a story.

Best fits: Regionally inspired menus, wine-focused itineraries

Cruise style: Immersive, thoughtful, culturally rich

No matter your Foodie Cruise Personality, the best cruise is the one that feeds your curiosity as much as your appetite. Use your results to choose cruise lines, itineraries, and shore excursions that match how you love to eat — not just what you love to eat.